THE CRITIC.

In the last month's issue of ."The Universal Monthly Magazine" there appeared six competitive stories. In the conditions it was stipulated that no story submitted should contain more than one thousand words, the idea being to confine the authors to bright, vitty, pointed stories told acceptably in as few words as possible. Pictorial ersays were not desired. A long, wordpainted story centering about "The Confessions of a Ton of Hay" was not called for.

The stories are well told and without exception interesting, but the prize story deserves the favorable criticism it received. It is well worth reading and bears the title "In the Das of Bath and The Douglas".

Our sales of 25 cents, freshly roasted, pure sales of 25 cents, freshly roasted, pure thing is in these days the keynote. on which the public bases its criticism-Old Kona Coffee A clean play, well presented, is a suc cess from the start. A questionable show, no matter how well it may be given, must be food for the critic. He the critic, is but one of the many who inhabit this world, and even if he should pronounce a doubtful play "s marvel of purity," the public itself would condemn it without the aid of a cilie. Hence, it is to please the public that the Lyceum Stock Company aims. In selecting the celebrated war drama "Held by the Enemy" this comcany has only emphasized its policy of presenting wholesome plays. "Held by the Enemy" is but a small picture of the events of the Civil War. out nevertheless the characters it embodies are true to the life of the American of that day and this. It is a story of devotion,—devotion by men and women of the same stock and blood to two diametrically opposite causes. It is a fight for principle overshadowed by that unwavering love of country, first of all, which is the acepted position of the American soldier and citizen. There should be a large attendance at the Orpheum both on Thursday and Saturday of this week. The box office is open daily from 9 to 1 and two to 6.
